A: Yes, the license has included the serial number as well as being used in the description box. However, the registration link that is provided has an extra requirement that you need to create a Flysim.Com account. You need this because the original registration is based on their free V3 SDK. After a quick search, Flysim.Com has the SDKs for 3, 4 and V4. You can also use the 3 download link for the V4 license but I've only used the 4 for the past 2 years. Q: PHP cannot open file in require_once function but can open it directly I have this code in my PHP file: require_once('some/path/file.php'); When I run this file (when I open it from the root directory), I get this error: Warning: require_once(C:\Users\Me\Desktop\file.php): failed to open stream: No such file or directory in C:\Users\Me\Desktop\test.php on line 2 But when I run the file directly (click on the link that's included), it works fine. Why this happens? Can anyone give me any suggestions on how to solve this? Thanks EDIT: I've changed the problem to an include instead. I've the same problem with an include. It works when I run the file directly but throws this error when I run it through the web server. Here's the code:
